

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn more about some of the most likely scams you may face when trying to go solar.

Some clean energy come-ons are a ruse to get your personal identifying information. In June, Huntsville Utilities in Alabama warned residents about callers posing as utility representatives ...

Many companies allegedly participate in fraudulent practices in an attempt to scam homeowners out of their money. Despite this issue, the solar industry is continuing to broaden its reach.

To avoid getting scammed, you need to know what to look out for and when to walk away. Here's our guide to spotting solar panel scams and finding a great installer. If something you see or hear from a ...

The Treasury Department works with other federal agencies, including the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to spread the word about ...

This article explores the most common solar panel scams, provides tips to recognize red flags, and offers guidance on protecting yourself from fraudulent solar companies.

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn ...

Despite this being a genuine program, scammers often fail to mention crucial details. Namely, that the credit is nonrefundable and limited by your tax liability. Furthermore, some ...

While you are browsing solar power companies, one of them may offer to install a solar panel or solar roof in your home for a small cost or even for free. It's an intentionally misleading claim.

These scams start with an unexpected phone call, message on social, or even an in-person visit. The so-called official offers you an "energy audit" to reduce your utility costs. Or they might try to sign you ...

Solar panels, typically mounted on rooftops to maximize sunlight exposure, are often misconceived as a risk to roof integrity. However, there's minimal risk of damage with a professional ...

Web: <https://www.williamsandcopaintcontractors.co.za>